It is likely the tenant is not registered in MyBond. Check with the RDA or have the Tenant register themselves through the tenant registration process on the CBOS website.

What happens next

When the transfer is lodged, the outgoing tenant will receive a notification from MyBond asking them to approve the transfer.

The outgoing tenant must approve the transfer and add their bank account details in MyBond within fourteen days.

When the outgoing tenant has completed their action, the incoming tenant receives a notification from MyBond to pay their bond contribution within fourteen days.

When the incoming tenant's payment is received by MyBond, the outgoing tenant's bond contribution is released to the outgoing tenant.

The transfer is complete.

Withdraw Transfer

A transfer can be withdrawn at any time before it's approved. If the tenant does not approve the transfer or the new tenant does not pay their money, the transfer will expire and will need to start again.

Check details

In the bond record, click  Bond Tenant List to check the tenant record has updated.

If you have any questions or concerns, or the tenant has not received their notification, email the RDA at rda@justice.tas.gov.au
